Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The American Veterinarian, or Diseases of Domestic Animals In the whole routine of husbandry, there is not a subject on which there is so great a want of information as in treating sick animals, and preventing diseases; and in no case do so serious and frequent losses occur, for want of knowledge. These losses, in this country, amount to a vast sum annually, not less than some millions of dollars; the greater part of which might be saved by good management and proper treatment. More than twenty years ago, we commenced collecting valuable rules and prescriptions, for managing animals and curing diseases, for our own private use in pursuing the business of farming; and in a number of instances, neighbors consulted these authorities, and by aid of a simple recipe, saved the lives of valuable animals. A mere item of a few lines, that costs less than one mill, may enable the farmer to save the life of an animal. By the help of a single prescription, whole herds and flocks have been saved from the pestilence that walketh in darkness, and the destruction that wasteth at noonday. We have continued our collection of valuable matter, consulting the best American and European authorities on the veterinary art, and many skilful practitioners, from whom we have obtained new and valuable prescriptions; and in conducting agricultural journals for more than twelve years, we have carefully examined all the works of this character, in this country, and some of the principal English periodicals, through which numerous intelligent farmers have communicated their experience in managing stock and treating diseased animals. Availing ourselves of our own experience and observation as...
